

Gender Dynamix Community

The Gender Dynamix Community Forum is open for all transgendered, intersexed and "SOFFA's" (significant others, friends, families and allies).

To access the forum, you need to create profile at the bottom of this page. This will allow you to read other member's postings, share thoughts, experiences, get in contact, via the forum with others, and even provide your photo, if you wish to.

People, who are not members of the forum, cannot access or read any postings, and therefore we request that you keep information you gain here as confidential. The aim of this "closed" section of the website is to create a safe space for people to share and learn from each other, without being exploited or "out'ed".

You may choose to use a pseudonym, as your name will be visible to others. A valid e-mail address is required to confirm your registration. Your e-mail address will not be visible to other people, however you can be contacted by other members via our website.

Once you are registered, you can update your profile and provide any information you are comfortable sharing.

You can browse other members and be found as well.

Please be assured, we will not share any of your private information with any third party.

Transgender Dating South Africa

Friends, love and romance for transgender people, their friends and admirers. Transgender Dating South Africa is a brand new service powered by Gender Dynamix. Visit <http://dating.genderdynamix.co.za/> to meet other likeminded people.